

Lewis Urges 'Great Union'

Says Workers Of America Should Unite

Indianapolis, May 3—(AP)—President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers called tonight for a "great international union of labor."

Lewis once led the UMW out of the American Federation of Labor in the split that led to the birth of the Congress of Industrial Organizations and later broke with the CIO. He spoke tonight at a testimonial dinner for William L. Hutcheson, retiring president of the AFL-Carpenters.

Lewis deplored the present divided state of American labor. He said its weakness is that it is "numerically strong but legislatively and in every public and governmental way not strong enough."

Unity Sought

He urged unity of AFL, CIO and independent unions and said: "How much better it would be if the leaders of the labor movement would rise above our own specific and technical problems and forge an instrument to embrace all sections and ranks of American labor."

"Any time they (AFL and CIO leaders) want to seriously approach the question they can count the UMW in, whatever may be the cost."

Dan Tobin, president of the AFL-Teamsters, added his voice to the discussion of unity.

Tobin Agrees

"If we had a united labor movement in the United States today, we could control the government within the law," Tobin said.

Besides Lewis and Tobin, those at the speakers' table included William L. Green, president of the AFL; James C. Petrillo, president of the AFL-Musicians; and Morris A. Hutcheson, son of "Big Bill" and now president of the carpenters. There were no CIO officials present.

After his break with the CIO and a period without affiliation Lewis took the miners back into the AFL. He later broke with AFL leaders and the UMW became independent again.

Illinois County Officials Urge Law Change

Chicago, May 3—(AP)—The Illinois Association of county officials today urged an amendment to the Illinois constitution to permit county sheriffs and treasurers to succeed themselves.

At the close of the 65th annual convention, the group also elected Eldon O. Becker of Springfield, Sangamon county auditor, as president.

Under present law, county sheriffs and treasurers can serve but one four year term. They cannot run for re-election. An amendment to change the law was beaten in a recent statewide election, because it did not carry a majority of all votes cast in the election. Under a new law governing amendments, they may carry it if they receive a majority of votes cast on the proposition itself.

In other resolutions the convention:

Accepted for membership the Illinois association of county superintendents of highways, now headed by M. J. Norby of Rock Island.

Urged revision of state allotments from the motor fuel tax to give the counties a bigger share.

Urged that the limit the county can tax rural amusement establishments be boosted from $25 to $200 a year. This refers to such places outside cities or towns.

Favored concentration of administration and disbursement of general assistance funds in the hands of the township supervisors.

In addition to Becker, officers elected were: vice president, Don Muhlhold, Decatur township supervisor; corresponding secretary, James W. Dumbler, Springfield; Sangamon county probate clerk; recording secretary, Denby Boring, Carlinville; Macoupin county clerk; sergeant at arms, John Tawchen; Cook county probate clerk; and treasurer, Lawrence Tanguay, Decatur, Macon county clerk.

TIRED OF SHAVING! GO TO OGLESBY AND GROW LAMB CHOPS

Oglesby, Ill., May 3—(AP)—Beards will be the style for the next six weeks in Oglesby, a town of about 5,000 population southwest of Ottawa.

The city will mark its semi-centennial in June. Mayor Burton Mayers has ordered all males to grow beards or pay $2 for a shaver's permit.

Also, those who grow mutton chops, sideburns or Van Dyke beards and then shave them off before the celebration will be fined $2 under the mayor's order.

U.S. Protests French Port Fees

Paris, May 3—(AP)—French port fees are costing the United States $8 for every American officer and more than $2 for every enlisted man landed in France, its partner in western defense.

The United States has opened negotiations with France, it was learned today, in an effort to cut these and other port levies that sometimes run as high as $5,000 per ship unloading soldiers and arms.

The discussions supplement talks initiated by Americans in an effort to prevent a system of French indirect taxes from taking $1 from every $5 that the U. S. taxpayer shells out for military construction work in France.

The port fees include pilot charges, whether or not a pilot is used, tug charges, wharf rental and a port maintenance toll—which the French call "peage"—on persons and cargoes.

The French government regards all these charges as fees for services rendered. U. S. government maintains freighters carrying military cargoes and used by the U. S. military sea transportation service should be considered part of the U. S. Navy and exempted from at least the peage fee.

The charge is also levied on every ship's cargo—whether the cargo is 155 millimeter guns or whiskey.

Because of military secrecy on troop numbers and ship movements, no estimate was available of how much the peage charge so far has cost the United States. But about 20,000 U. S. Troops are based in France. Others pass through as transients.

British Jet Flies To South Africa In Record Time

Johannesburg, South Africa, May 3—(AP)—The British jetliner Comet streaked over the middle of the Atlantic with a pay load to a scheduled landing in Johannesburg today.

The 6,724-mile flight brought South Africa less than 24 hours from London and ushered in the jet age of commercial air travel.

Thousands of spectators lined Palmietfontein airport as the four-engine De Havilland craft, which whistled away from the misty spring weather of London yesterday at 2 p.m. Greenwich time (8 a.m. CST), and whined down in the South African autumn here at 1:33 p.m. (7:33 a.m. CST).

The official landing time was clocked five minutes later, when checks were fitted beneath the Comet's wheels, still two minutes ahead of the scheduled landing time of 1:40 p.m.

Elapsed time for the flight—including stops in Rome, Italy; Beirut, Lebanon; Khartoum, Sudan; Ennabe, Uganda; and Livingstone, Zambia—was 22 hours 38 minutes. That's about two-thirds of the time consumed by regular commercial aircraft for the journey from London to this city. Much of the flight was made more than seven miles up.

The British Overseas Airways Corporation, the operators, said the flying time was 17 hours 16 minutes.

"We don't try to break records," a BOAC spokesman said. "We try to fly on schedule."

The Comet, which hit 525 miles an hour between Rome and Lebanon, bore 36 paying passengers, 30 bags of mail and six crewmen from London. It averaged 390 miles an hour in the flights that touched three continents—Europe, Asia and Africa.

The Comet's passengers paid the regular fare of 175 pounds ($490) for one way and 315 pounds ($882) for round trip.

Mt. Pulaski High Musicians Win Class C Award

Peoria, Ill., May 3—(AP)—Mt. Pulaski took top honors, the Sweepstakes award, today in the class C state high school music meet.

Mt. Pulaski received 103 points in the contest in which some 3,000 contestants from 132 schools were entered. Runner-up was Hamilton, with 91 points.

The class C contest was for schools with an enrollment of from 126 to 225 students.

Other schools winning top ratings in the Sweepstakes were: Gilman, 77 points; Plainfield, 69; Toulon, 67; Atwood, 63; Mt. Carroll, 62; St. Elmo, 50; Bement and Niangua, each 47, and Arthur, 38.

Toulon rated first in the girls' chorus competition in division one. In the mixed chorus event, Mt. Carroll and Wheaton each received superior ratings. In band competition, Atwood, Mt. Pulaski, Cuba, Gilman, Mt. Carroll, St. Elmo and Plainfield won superior ratings.

Army To Stop Costly Frills, It Says

Frankfurt, Germany, May 3—(AP)—The U. S. Army announced today it is knocking off some 45 million dollars worth of its frills in Germany by doing away with the free meals and other personal services.

The Army bowed to a state department demand that it cut off several thousand free servants whose wages came from West German government funds as occupation costs.

The announcement said the release of servants would begin immediately and would be ended next June 30. It did not go into detail.

Nothing was said about special non-duty trains, also regarded coolly by the state department, which take troops to recreation centers. It was indicated this matter is still being negotiated.

It could not be learned immediately just how many servants would be affected by the U. S. order, but free maids are installed in quarters of soldiers from non-commissioned officers up. The Army had budgeted for 29,000 servants for the coming fiscal year.

Despite the fact officers and non-coms will have to dig into their own pockets to see the bill is cleaned or a Scotch and soda mixed right, the U. S. soldier is still the best off in Germany. His post expenses are well covered, and his pay rate makes other Allied soldiers green with envy.

Negotiations to get 400,000 West Germans into a European army have not been helped by the drain on occupation costs through army luxury items of the free service type.

McKinney Agrees With Truman

Washington, May 3—(AP)—Agreeing with President Truman, Chairman Frank E. McKinney of the Democratic national committee says there is "much merit" in a proposal that the party hold a national convention every two years instead of every four.

In a letter to Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), who made the proposal last January, McKinney said:

"Obviously there are administrative and technical problems involved in the holding of more frequent national conventions. One of these is the expense of such an undertaking."

"Yet the plan undoubtedly has much merit. Biennial conventions would provide an opportunity for keeping the party platform up to date and would also focus national attention on national political issues that face the country in every mid-term election."

McKinney's April 24 letter was made public by Humphrey today.

McKinney noted that last March 2 the president wrote Rep. Jarvis (R-NY) that a biennial convention "would provide a platform for congressmen and senators running in the off-years."

Humphrey said he also had received a letter from Truman, saying the proposal "has a great deal of merit."

Democrats List Three Candidates For U.I. Board

Champaign, Ill., May 3—(AP)—Three men were recommended today as Democratic candidates for places on the University of Illinois board of trustees.

The Democratic committee of the University's Alumni Association selected:

Julien H. Collins, Chicago investment banker.

Charles E. Bliss, Taylorville attorney and former president of the young Democratic club of Illinois.

Harold Pogue of Decatur, president of a lumber company.

Pogue, now president of the University of Illinois Alumni Association, served as a trustee from 1935 to 1941.

The actual nominations will be made by the Democratic state convention Thursday at Springfield. The convention usually accepts the recommendations of the alumni association.

The association's Republican committee expects to choose three candidates soon to make the race on the GOP ticket.

Three trustees will be chosen by the voters at the November election. There are nine trustees, but only three places will be at stake this fall.

RULES ROCK ISLAND SLOTS GAMING DEVICES

Ottawa, Ill., May 3—(AP)—The appellate court has ruled that so-called slotless slot machines which were confiscated in Rock Island county more than a year ago are gambling devices.

Truman Shows People The New White House

Washington, May 3—(AP)—Householder Harry Truman took the nation on a television tour of the White House today and banded out a few bars of piano music for good measure.

With millions watching him on TV screens, the president gave a chatty description of the first two floors of the "revamped" executive mansion, as he called it, while six cameras followed his progress from room to room.

On this first televised at-home any president has held, one of the announcers asked Truman when he thought the White House—recently reconstructed at a cost of over $5,700,000—would have to be done over again.

"I think in about a thousand years," the president replied.

In a 45-minute program televised by three of the four major networks, Truman personally showed off all the public rooms which tourists get to see. The program also included previously-made pictures of the first family's own living quarters.

In the stately east room, NBC's Frank Bourgholtzer invited Truman to try out one of the two grand pianos. The president, who once hoped to be a professional pianist, needed no coaxing. He sat down on one piano and played a few bars of Mozart's Ninth Sonata, ending with a sweep of his hand across the keyboard. Then he plunked out a few bars on the other while standing up.

Obviously, the president was enjoying himself as he remote control he showed the taxpayers around his temporary abode.

He told some anecdotes new to most people.

In one room, a portrait of Calvin Coolidge with a coiled reminder of the time the dog in the picture ate the breakfast sausage of Texas Senator Morris Sheppard. The president noted with a grin that Coolidge didn't provide another sausage for his guest, either.

Florida—the emphasis here was on Democrats, with Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee battling it out in the state's first Democratic presidential preference primary in 20 years. While Russell was the favorite in the Tuesday primary, Kefauver's homey hand-shaking campaign was believed to be an effective vote-getting technique, and some believed he had a chance to upset Russell. A record 800,000 vote is expected. The primary is a popularity vote—delegates will be elected later.

Alabama—the Tuesday Democratic primary selects 26 delegates with 22 votes at the national convention.

Maryland—another presidential preference primary, with national delegates to be selected at a later state convention. Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin returned from Europe yesterday, said in New York he hoped Maryland would avoid a "Taft-Eisenhower" fight in its Monday balloting. He said he liked both men. McKeldin said that he, as a "favorite son" candidate, would have the Maryland vote on the first convention ballot, but that from then on, "the Maryland delegation itself will decide what direction we are to take." He denied that he had endorsed Eisenhower during a Paris interview.

May Probe Private Loans To Democrats

Washington, May 3—(AP)—Two investigations may be started into an Internal Revenue Bureau ruling that certain loans made to a Democratic campaign chest could be written off as bad debts for tax purposes.

Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) said today the Senate elections subcommittee which he heads may look into the loans, made to the New York state Democratic committee.

"I intend to call the matter up for discussion at a meeting of the subcommittee Monday," Gillette informed a newsmen. "Then we will decide whether it is something for us to investigate and find out whether there has been any circumvention by subterfuge."

Rep. Keane (R-NJ) demanded that top Revenue Bureau officials be called before a House committee to explain the ruling. In a statement, he asked that Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap and Deputy Commissioner E. I. McLarny be called in public session. The ruling was made in 1948 by McLarny.

Senator Williams (R-De) told the Senate this week that three wealthy men—Richard J. Reynolds, of Winston-Salem, N. C.; Marshall Field of Chicago and David Schulte, late chain store cigar magnate—were given permission to write off as bad debts 90 per cent of campaign loans totaling $410,000. He said the Revenue Bureau had ruled the three could accept offers from the Democratic committee to set off for 10 cents on the dollar, and could deduct the rest on their tax returns as bad business debts.

Hearing Monday On Federal Judge Nomination

Washington, May 3—(AP)—The senate judiciary committee will take up Monday—after a month's delay—President Truman's disputed nomination of Federal Judge James P. McGranery to be attorney general.

There were reports that some of the vigorous opposition which had greeted the nomination was subsiding, and it was not certain whether McGranery or any other witnesses would appear at the committee hearings.

But Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), who was among the first to challenge the nomination, announced he will demand that McGranery be summoned if he doesn't show up voluntarily.

In Philadelphia, McGranery told a reporter he "positively" intends to be present at the hearings and added that "I certainly want to testify."

Ferguson has raised a question about McGranery's role as a top justice department official in handling prosecution of the celebrated Amerasia case, which has become a hot congressional issue.

The case involved the discovery in 1945 of several hundred government documents, largely from the state department, in the New York offices of Amerasia, a now-defunct magazine which specialized in Far Eastern affairs.

Two of six persons arrested in connection with the case paid fines, but charges against the others were dropped. The government's handling of the case at a time when McGranery was No. 2 man in the justice department has come in for considerable criticism from members of congress.

McGranery was elevated to the federal bench in 1946.

His nomination to be attorney general capped a dramatic justice department shakeup in which Attorney General J. Howard McGrath fired Newbold Morris as the government's corruption sleuth, and himself was fired by President Truman a few hours later.

McGranery's nomination requires senate confirmation.

Important Primaries This Week

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A busy political week ahead finds every segment of the nation—north and west—holding primaries or party meetings important to the national presidential conventions two months away.

Presidential primaries are scheduled in Florida, Ohio, Maryland and Alabama—with New Mexico holding a state primary. Conventions are in New York, Illinois, Nevada, Michigan and Utah.

These are the highlights:

Ohio—elects 56 Republican delegates, 54 Democratic delegates to the July national conventions. Senator Robert A. Taft, GOP presidential candidate from Ohio, winds up his state-wide campaign today (Sunday). He has a full slate of delegates, and an expected victory will put him ahead of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in delegate votes. During the past week Eisenhower had forged ahead for the first time.

Florida—the emphasis here was on Democrats, with Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia and Sen. JAPAN'S CONDUCT INDICATES SHE WILL BE WORTHY OF FREEDOM

In a world where peace treaties have receded almost into the realm of dreams, Japan's rebirth as a sovereign nation stands out in sharp relief.

Almost seven years have passed since the Japanese bowed in surrender before superior Allied forces in the Pacific and gave up their fanatical program of Asiatic conquest. Today they are welcomed into the family of free nations as a friend and equal.

It would be folly to pretend that all of Japan's enemies have forgotten her depredations in World War II. In Australia and the Philippines, to mention only two places, the memory of those days burns deeply.

Japan can only erase that feeling by proving through action in the years ahead that the trust reposed in her by the new treaty is well merited. The major powers plainly believe it is, else they would not have made themselves party to a pact which is unique in its liberality.

No sober-minded observer of the Japanese imagine that relations with these peoples will be all peaches and cream. Elements of the internal groups which bulked heavily in the militaristic government of a former day are not wholly eradicated. It would be strange indeed if all vestige of the old dream of Asiatic dominion had been wiped out.

But the record to this point is extremely favorable. Under General MacArthur's brilliant stewardship, and later under General Ridgway, an able successor, the Japanese have shown a tremendous will to earn their way back into the community of respected nations.

They have made earnest effort to embrace democracy, to modify many features of their age-old society in conformity with most modern concepts of government.

In agreeing to a mutual defense pact with the United States and others, the Japanese have chosen to range themselves on the side of the free world in the bitter and unending struggle against world communism.

Now their moment of freedom and independence has come. The day of the Allied occupation is over. American troops will still be stationed on the Japanese island. But they will be there as friends and protectors, not as conquerors.

Japan's postwar coming of age is a milestone to be hailed around the globe. And it is striking notice to the Soviet Union that not all relations with our former enemies can be hamstrung and corrupted by the devices of communism.

WATTS IN THE AMERICAN WOMEN'S POINT-OF-VIEW

BY HAL BOYLE

Winchester, Va.—(P)—There are two ways to kiss a lady's hand—over and under.

For generations it has been a courtly gesture for a gentleman to bend and salute a lady with a brush of his lips to the back of her hand, roughly two inches north of her knuckles.

Well, that got to be so standardized that men (men being what they are) figured that to get ahead with women (women being what they are) they would have to do something different.

So some male smart alec figured if he turned the lady's hand over and kissed it on the warm, soft, underside he would impress her as a gay daredevil. In Kansas City, one of the centers of masculine-feminine relations in this century, this gesture became graciously known as "the kiss of the Cavalier."

This touch of Missouri gallantry has, as a matter of fact, rather swept the country in the last two decades. In the gay salons of New York City I have always found that a humble son of the midwest could easily compete with sophisticated continentalists in the matter of a romantic tribute to the hostess.

The continental, who usually wears a mustache, thinks he will surprise the hostess memorably by kissing her on the elbow. But actually most American women find this a rather eerie experience. As one prominent Manhattan hostess put it at the end of a hectic evening of such greetings by foreign diplomats:

"My elbows are simply brush raw."

On the other hand, while you can still stir a lady's heart by the fine new American tradition of kissing her palm—gently massaging her fingers meanwhile—this has its disadvantages, too.

The main problem is the changed hands of U. S. women. They don't have dishpan skins anymore—they have the rough hands of home electricians.

A wife is the handy woman around the house today.

She no longer spends her time drying dishes. She is too busy repairing the equipment designed to make her life easier—the electric washing machine, the electric vacuum cleaner, the electric television set.

You bow and kiss her palm and bruise your mouth on a callous. Either that or you hit a bandage.

Knighthood is still in flower. But it is getting harder to impress American women. Don't kiss the lady's hand. Don't send her roses. Just slip into her muscular palm a book on the history of the alternating current and she'll love you forever.

Encourage Children Whose Interests Turn to Hobbies

A professor at New York University discovered in a recent survey of 1,000 adults that 87 per cent of them started the hobbies they are now interested in before they were 12 years of age.

As an adult, what can you learn from these figures? That if you've never had a hobby you aren't likely to have one? Nope, if you really want a hobby you can be one of the minority numbers and take one up right now.

What those startling figures should point out to you is the importance of encouraging your children whenever they seek to acquire new skills or get interested in any kind of hobbies.

Parents are often wet blankets when their children try learning new skills or acquiring hobbies.

Sometimes they are so fearful that a child may be hurt they won't let him follow his natural inclination toward a certain sport.

Sometimes they are just too busy to offer any encouragement when the child needs a little adult interest and a little help to pursue a hobby beyond its first phase.

Sometimes a mother with a passion for neatness and order thinks she can't put up with the clutter a hobby is responsible for. So she'll nag at the child to get rid of his "junk"—which isn't junk at all in his eyes, but the raw materials of a fascinating hobby.

Those old bird nests cluttering the top of junior's chest of drawers or your daughter's collection of rocks and dried flowers aren't just junk.

They are signs that your child is interested in exploring the world about him. If you encourage that interest it may stay with him a lifetime.

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

Godliness In Daily Life

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

When we speak of a man as being "a godly man," what do we mean?

We are sure that he is essentially a reverent man, with a true sense of holiness. We now that he would not take the name of God in vain, as so many today do, in careless, casual conversation, or in deep, intended oaths.

He is probably a good churchman, who goes to church regularly, who manifests good moral living, and who is outwardly correct in ritual observances, and in the conventional requirements of the religion he professes.

But is that all there is to godliness? We know from very high authority that it is not.

We have the story of the rich young man, who came to Jesus, inquiring how he might inherit eternal life (Mark 10:17-22). He was probably more correct in his way of life than even most men of conventional goodness. Yet he lacked the one most essential thing.

"Where your treasure is," said Jesus, "there will your heart be also" (Matthew 6:21). And where your heart is, there is your real religion, no matter how much you profess that it is elsewhere.

The young man's supreme attachment was to his great possessions, which in his ultimate decision he chose rather than companionship with Jesus, and the possibility of becoming the twelfth Apostle, when Judas Iscariot failed.

The average man is not likely to be faced with any such crucial decision but the story emphasizes the first deep essential of godliness, which is the acceptance of God as the treasure of the heart.

But neither is this all there is to godliness. Choice and the treasure of the heart are the roots of true religion, the beginning of godliness; but godliness consists in what comes after.

When one reads with insight the account of the early Christian Church, in the New Testament, and especially in the Epistles, an apparent and surprising discovery is that so many accepted God and the Christian way, without any clear apprehension of all that it meant.

For those of that early Christian time, and for less, professing Christians of today, the Beloved Apostle leaves no doubt about godliness in daily life.

His plain, strong words are: "If a man love not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he has not seen?" (I John 4:20).

What would John say of our world of today, in which there is so much of "lip service" and so little brotherly love?

H-Bomb Plant Housing Taxes Washington Funds, Patience

BY PETER EDSON

Washington—(NEA)—Demands that something be done about the housing situation at the huge new Savannah River H-bomb plant are coming into Washington from the Augusta, Ga.-Aiken, S. C. area.

So far, Sen. Brien McMahon's Congressional Atomic Energy Committee has defended Atomic Energy Commission for its housing policy, and scheduled no hearings, though a committee investigator has visited the site.

Part of the complaint comes from some of the 30,000 workmen now on the job at this world's largest construction project. Other complaints come from housing contractors and trailer manufacturers who are sore because they didn't get out in on the deal by the DuPont Co.

Congressional interest centers in fears that the government may lose between four and five million dollars through subsidy guarantees to dormitory-barracks and trailer-housing contractors.

Atomic Energy Commission replies that it won't lose that much when the temporary housing projects are completed and fully operative. This will be late this summer and for the following three years, when peak employment will be between 47,000 and 60,000 men.

Even if the government should run into an extra cost of several million dollars for temporary housing, Atomic Energy Commission officials believe this loss will be less than it would have been if the government had built and operated its own towns.

This was the formula followed on the original atomic installations at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Hanford, Wash. It caused perpetual headaches. Trying to build and operate the atomic energy plants was enough trouble, without having to bother running towns on the side.

AEC APPROVED GUARANTEES TO BUILDERS

In trying to get private contractors to come into the Savannah River site, however, the government ran into trouble. The contractors wanted guarantees, so they wouldn't lose any money. AEC, through the DuPont company, approved them.

On 4500 dormitory units for unmarried workers being built by Lyle and Lang of Charleston, the government guaranteed 100 per cent occupancy at $2.25 a week per man. Some 4900 of these units, in barracks-type buildings, have been completed during the last three months.

Maximum occupancy has been about 300 men so far. So the government is having to pay $2.25 a week for some 3600 empty rooms, or $28,700 a week.

This is on the Aiken side of the river. The location is way back in the woods, remote from the plant site, remote from eating places, remote from towns and recreational facilities. These are said to be the reasons the workmen won't occupy them. By contrast, private rooms in built-over barns and old houses are said to be turning people away at $10 a week and more.

For families, a huge trailer park project of 4000 units was approved on the Augusta side of the river. Contract for this development was given to the John A. Robbins Co. of Philadelphia. The government guaranteed 90 per cent occupancy at a rental of $2.50 a month.

The first 300 units of this trailer park were opened April 4, to the accompaniment of considerable criticism. The site is 28 miles from the plant. The river is crossed on two double-lane bridges, with narrow access roads which are traffic bottlenecks.

TRAILER PARK STREETS UNDER WATER

The location is on river bottom-land, protected by levees. Street levels are low and have been under water part of the time. Some trailers have been protected by individual dikes. The place has been dubbed locally, "Sardine City."

As if this wasn't enough grief, Office of Rent Stabilization has now come along with decisions that the AEC-guaranteed rates are too high. A ceiling of $6 a week on single rooms, $10 a week on double rooms, has been applied to the dormitory units.

AEC has protested this ruling. If it sticks, the government would have to pay the contractor, Lyle and Lang, the subsidy difference between the ceiling rate and guaranteed rate. This would amount to $2.25 a week on single rooms, $6.50 on double rooms for the 4500 units when they're all built and in use.

For the trailers, Office of Rent Stabilization has served notice it considers $60 a month a proper ceiling rate. This ceiling has not been put into effect because the trailer park project has not been completed. When all units are finished, AEC will have 30 days in which to file a protest against the lower rental rate.

If the Office of Rent Stabilization overrules the protest and slaps on the ceiling, the government will be faced with the prospect of paying the Robbins company a subsidy of $22.50 a month on each trailer rented. This is the difference between the ceiling rental and the contract, guaranteed rental.

It could run into important money. But Senator McMahon insists it will be far less than the 10 to 15 million dollar cost to the taxpayer, if the government had attempted to build and run its own towns.

EAT WELL for Less

Cook With Frozen Vegetables

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Market Editor

Frozen vegetables are increasingly more popular. They do have high quality, are free of waste and certainly save kitchen time. Often they are actually cheaper than fresh.

You'll enjoy these two recipes. Nothing very fancy about them but they certainly eat easy.

Frozen Spinach and Corned Beef Supreme

(4-6 servings)

One package frozen spinach, 3 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 cups milk, 6 slices cooked corned beef.

Cook spinach according to directions on package. Melt butter or margarine; add flour and salt and mix to smooth paste. Stir in milk and cook until smooth and thick.

Drain spinach and place in baking dish (about 6x12x2). Place slices of corned beef over spinach; pour saucy over all. Place in preheated boiler compartment about 3 inches from source of heat. Broil until sauce bubbles and is slightly browned.

Frozen Cauliflower Casserole

(3-4 servings)

One package frozen cauliflower, 1 tablespoon butter or fortified margarine, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk, 1 cup grated sharp cheese, 1/2 ounce can luncheon meat, cubed, 1 cup crushed potato chips.

Defrost cauliflower. Melt butter or margarine; stir in flour and salt to smooth paste. Stir in milk and cook until thickened. Stir in grated cheese until melted. Combine cauliflower and sauce.

Place in an oiled 1-quart casserole. Top with potato chips. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 15 minutes or until cauliflower is heated through.

MONDAY'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Rhubarb sauce, ready-to-eat cereal, fried eggs and bacon, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Spinach and corned beef with sauce, enriched hard rolls, butter or fortified margarine, raw carrot sticks, prepared chocolate pudding, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, cold sliced veal (from Sunday), fried leftover potatoes, canned green beans, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, cabbage, onion and pineapple salad with sour cream dressing, apple pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

WHAT'S RIGHT

After living for a time in a town where a number of older residents were very hospitable to you, you move away to a distant place.

WRONG: Don't bother to write the friends you have left behind you.

RIGHT: Be sure to write the persons who showed you real hospitality, letting them know how much their friendship meant to you.

Household Hints

To remove heavily soiled lines from the collar and cuffs of cotton shirts, scrub lightly with a soft-bristled brush. Dip brush in soft water or a solution of the synthetic detergent you are using for washing. An ordinary vegetable brush is good, but be sure the bristles are soft enough so they won't harm the fabric.

If you use thin oilcloth as a lining for dresser drawers or shelves and want it to stay put until it wears out, give the surface to be covered a thin coat of shellac and place the oilcloth on while the shellac is still wet. The shellac will serve as a glue when dried.

In making a bedspread, remember the top of the coverlet will have to be pieced to gain the width and overlap unless your fabric is very wide. Covered welting can be used where seams occur on top and at the edge of the drop. Quilted chintz is especially good for these spreads and matching or contrasting colored welting is available in your local drapery trimming department.

To remove paint stains from white cottons or linens, scrape off as much fresh paint as possible. Soften with vaseline. Then, soak in pure turpentine, rub occasionally. Wash in warm suds. Rinse.

After washing, pull and shape blankets to their original dimensions. Blankets may then be dried on a line, dried on a flat surface, or if care is used, in a dryer.

Don't ever use boiling hot water to clean even your most precious gold, silver or platinum jewelry and certainly not your costume jewelry.

New Fabrics Need Special Handling

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

New York—(NEA)—Finding out just how a fabric will act in the tub and on the ironing board is an important part of stretching the wardrobe dollar in this year of high living costs.

Among the fabrics least understood by the most women, rayon and acetate rank high. Few women realize that the two take a totally different handling and that when the two yarns are used in combination the procedure for acetate is the right one to use.

Rayon, for instance, can take heat without melting and therefore can be ironed with a hot iron. Similarly, it can be safely washed in hot water.

But acetate, which women tend to confuse with rayon, will "fuss" if a hot iron descends upon it. This means that acetate gets a warm—never a hot—iron. And it follows that acetate must be handled with care in washing. Water must be lukewarm and the soap mild.

Acetate dries faster than rayon but it is also less absorbent, which means that rayon is somewhat more comfortable to wear. The two fabrics are equally and wholly moth-resistant and neither one deteriorates with age. Both retain their whiteness without need for bleaching.

Acetate is the fabric (left) used by Filcol for a dress with bolero jacket that slips off for dressy occasions. Trapunto work in an all-over pattern is used for surface interest.

Carolyn Schuurer uses rayon and acetate in combination (right) for this flowing crepe with sweeping pleated skirt. Done in a light weight, it's a fashion rightly designed for wear through spring and into summer.

Exercise Helps Feet

Are you considerate of your feet? You should be. They are the best means of transportation you have.

With just a few minutes of care every day, you can actually keep them looking and feeling healthy. To begin with, when you are home, wear shoes as little as possible. A pair of heavy anklets will fit the bill perfectly.

Walking in anklets gives you an opportunity for real foot stretching and exercising. As you walk, the weight of your body should always be on the outside edge of your feet. If your feet are feeling particularly tired, try pointing the toes in a little.

Before you start to do any specific foot exercises, however, you should begin with a hot foot bath. This is important as it will stimulate the circulation of blood.

To get the most out of your foot exercises you will need such props as marbles, a towel and a book. Try to pick up the marbles with your toes, grasp the towel in the same way, and attempt to stand tiptoe on the edge of the book. You can lean against the wall for balance.

When you have finished exercising, give your feet a cold shower—to make the muscles contract. This step may not seem necessary, but it is, if you are to achieve beneficial results.

Conclude your foot care ritual with an over-all beauty treat. Lie in bed on your back with your feet and legs propped up on a pillow. They should be placed higher than the rest of your body. Bend your knees and place the soles of your feet next to each other. Then just let your body completely relax. If you have the time or the inclination, take a short nap. It will do you a lot of good.

To assure real cleanliness, always suds off shelves and drawers before relining them with fresh washable plastic.

Pre-Wedding Days Must Be Planned

Busy pre-wedding plans will leave you completely exhausted and far from feeling radiant unless you allow time for relaxation. Get into the habit of spending at least twenty minutes a day out in the sunshine. Prop your feet up high to rid your legs of the kinks you're bound to have as a result of shopping and fittings. Listen to soft music to ease out the worry lines, and if you are in the mood study the travel folders you and your husband-to-be have gathered together (left). The surest way to relax is among the soap bubbles in a soothing lukewarm tub bath (center). Tuck a folded bath towel under your curls and wiggle your toes in a long luxurious soaking. As the final glamorizing touch when the "big" moment does arrive, choose an enchanting fragrance that will further help to insure a perfect wedding day (right) for you and your complete bridal party.

Flattering Hat Is Beauty Aid
BY ALICIA HART
Hats can be a great beauty aid—if you buy them with your particular needs in mind. Just as you create illusions with make-up, look for hats that help you to achieve a more perfect facial effect.
If your nose tends to be a bit too long, for example, be careful that the brim of your hat does not dip down in the same direction as your nose. Keep away from towering crowns and exotic treatments. The hats you wear should reveal a neat, simple line, and they should never be too small.
The high-crowned hat is not flattering to the long, thin face, either. If you are trying to add width, pick wide brims, the profile hat and the big drum. Side effects, such as flowers and feathers, are extremely good for creating a wide illusion.
Chapeau shopping presents other problems for the wide face. The only hats that should be of interest to you are those with long, sleek designs that emphasize height. Don't be afraid to wear the unusual. Just be sure it makes your face look thinner.
And don't forget to take your chin into consideration before you buy "that" hat. A small, receding line demands that you stay away from tip-tipped brims and flower clusters on your brow. The best hats for you are the small cloche types.
Again look for as little detail as possible. Just the opposite hat-buying rules apply if you have a sharp, jutting chinline.

Household Hints
The iron you select should be lightweight, with a "fabric dial" indicating the proper heat for each fabric. It should have button nooks for smooth ironing around and under buttons; the handle should fit the hand comfortably and stay cool.
If you are buying shoes for youngsters from two to five years of age, here are some requirements to keep in mind. The soles should be stiffer than their first shoes but still flexible, the uppers pliable, the inside line straight, the heels low or built-in under the sole, and the shoes about three-quarters of an inch longer than the foot.
If you are reconditioning your wicker furniture, first scrub with thick warm soapsuds, working into the crevices with a stiff brush. Rinse with a fine spray of water and set in the sun to dry.
Make a tiny kitchen look large by painting it all white. Introduce color boldly but sparingly with dashes of red on door handles, on painted cabinets, and in your curtains.
The instep of your baby's first shoe should be loose enough to permit free blood circulation. Too tight an instep presses the bones of the arch out of shape and cramps the foot.

Junior And Senior Bands To Present Waverly Concert

Waverly—The instrumental music department of the local schools under the direction of James Conlee will present its annual spring concert Friday, May 9, at 8 p.m. at the new gymnasium.

The entire department will perform, including the beginners in the fourth grade. The 41 piece junior band composed of 16 fifth graders, 21 sixth graders and four seventh graders will make its first public appearance.

During the intermission the fourth grade song flute class will play two numbers.

After the intermission the 48 piece senior band will play a program of marches, light classical and popular music. For variety the band will play one novelty, "Jack and the Beanstalk," featuring Billy Dorwart as narrator. As additional features, Billy Jones will play a baritone saxophone solo, "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," and Sharon Dodd and Norma Jean Mayberry will present a baton twirling specialty.

One number will be led by Jerry Brown, student director and the only senior in the band.

Junior-Senior Prom
The junior-senior prom held Thursday had as its theme "A Trip to Hawaii."

The committees were led by James Blair, president and chairman, Marilyn Gooden, Doris Lowery, Glenn Marshall and Wayne Lowder.

Miss Edith Robinson and Mr. F. Marion Sharp, junior class sponsors assisted the committees with their planning and preparations.

New York Stock Market

New York, May 3—(AP)—Prices moved along a narrowly mixed range today in the stock market while the result of the White House steel conference was awaited. Most prices changed small fractions with a mere handful venturing as much as a point away from the previous close.

Volume came to an estimated 450,000 shares as compared with last Saturday's 550,000 shares.

In the mixed class were steels, rails, utilities, oils, chemicals, radio-televisions, and non-ferrous metals. The motors were in the unchanged to lower class, while the rubbers were mostly unchanged. Advancing stocks included Bethlehem Steel, Santa Fe, and Anaconda Copper, while in the lower class were Chrysler, Sinclair Oil, and American Cyanamid.

Curb stocks were steady. Corporate bonds were quiet and steady.

CHICAGO CASH GRAIN

Chicago, May 3—(AP)—No wheat; Corn: No. 3 yellow 1.80-1.81; No. 4, 1.77-1.79; No. 5, 1.68-1.75; sample grade 1.43-1.78.

Oats: No. 1 heavy white 88-89; No. 4 heavy white 87; sample grade heavy white 83.

Barley malting 1.30-1.70 nominal feed 1.25-1.40 nominal. Field seed per hundredweight nominal: red clover 30.00-31.00; timothy 9.25-9.75.

GRAINS END ON FIRM TONE IN CHICAGO

Chicago, May 3—(AP)—Grains ended on a firm tone on the board of trade today after spending most of the session hovering around previous closing prices. Soybeans lead the moderate advance.

The upturn in soybeans was led by the May contract, in which there continued to be quite a bit of short-covering because of the lack of deliveries of cash beans and the low stocks both here and at other terminal markets. The deferred months followed the leadership of May.

Dealings appeared to be cut down considerably by uncertainty over both the steel situation and the truce negotiations in Korea.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1 higher, May $2.42, corn 1-1 higher, May $1.78-1, oats unchanged to 1 higher, May $1.71-1, rye 1-1 higher, May $1.97-1.97, soybeans 1 to 2 cents higher, May $2.93-2.94, and lard 10 to 30 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $11.17.

Estimated receipts of grain in cars here today: wheat 19, corn 115, oats 11, rye 1, barley 9 and soybeans 24. Receipts include 88 cars of corn on CCC account.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

New York, May 3—(AP)—Stocks—mixed, trading quiet. Bonds—higher, chances slight. Chicago: Wheat—closed firm in light trade. Corn—firm; rallied at close. Oats—steady; May contract dragged.

Soybeans—firm; led late upturn.

Fleet Calumet Entry Is Winner By Two Lengths

Louisville, Ky., May 3—(P)—Hill Gail, backed by the greatest Kentucky Derby combination of the turf, won the 78th running of the classic today.

It was the fifth triumph in the Derby both for Calumet Farm and Jockey Eddie Arcaro, and the sixth for Trainer Ben Jones.

No other owner, jockey or trainer can match this record.

The fleet Hill Gail, favorite from the start, was two lengths in front of the 15 other 3 year old thoroughbreds when he completed the mile and a quarter in near record time.

The second horse was Sub Fleet of Charles T. Fisher's Dixiana Stable. Blue Man, owned by A. W. Abbott, finished third.

A roaring crowd, estimated by Churchill Downs at a record-breaking 110,000 persons, saw Hill Gail travel the Derby course in 2 minutes one and 3/5 second, one fifth slower than the track record.

Blue Man 8 Lengths Back
A nation-wide television audience, estimated by the Columbia Broadcasting System at 50 million, also looked on as Blue Man finished eight and three-quarter lengths behind Sub Fleet. Blue Man was second choice in the betting.

Hill Gail's performance earned $96,350 for his owners, the fabulous Lexington, Ky., thoroughbred factory owned by Mrs. Warren Wright. Until today Calumet was tied in Kentucky Derby victories with the late E. R. Bradley's record of four won.

The total purse for the race was $124,350.

The track was fast and dry with a warm sun beating down, and Hill Gail came within a fifth of a second of the 2:01 2/5 Derby track record established by Whirlaway in 1941. Arcaro rode for Ben Jones and Calumet in that one, too.

Hill Gail, a handsome dark bay son of Bull Lea-Jane Gail, had tipped his class before a Louisville crowd last Tuesday when he went the one mile derby trial in a romp and broke the track record.

So it was natural that the customers were going to go for him in a big way at the mutual windows. He opened at 7 to 5, the changed to 6 to 5 and held there until two minutes before post time, then dropped to even money on the board. He actually paid win backers $4.20.

Top Blend Scratched
Top Blend, another Calumet colt, was withdrawn this morning, and Trainer Jones said he had been entered only as insurance against rain. So Top Blend is a superior mauler. So Hill Gail went it alone, and once he zipped past the pace-setting Hannibal going into the far turn, this 78th derby was all in the Calumet bag.

The purse of $124,350 was the third richest of these Churchill Downs classics. Hill Gail's share of $96,350 compared with the record $98,050 paid to Count Turf last year and $96,400 to Assault in 1946.

It was the second big derby for Hill Gail this year, since the colt capped the $100,000 Santa Anita derby Feb. 23 in California.

He's named for the Prekness two weeks hence, and then the Belmont stakes, among other big sophomore classics.

"The horse ran the best race he had in him," said Arcaro, who jumped down off the colt in the winner's circle after they draped the wreath of roses around jockey and horse for the cameramen.

"He wanted to run, so I let him. He got especially eager at the half mile pole (half a mile from home) and I let him ease by Hannibal before I wanted to.

"Happy? There's no thrill like winning your first derby—unless it's winning your fifth." He had waved his cap gaily at the cheering thousands in the packed stands as Hill Gail came up the main track after pulling up, and headed for the rose-bordered horseshoe area where only derby winners tread.

Busy Diamond Chart For Teams This Week

The Jacksonville sub district will open at the northside Thursday afternoon with Meredosia meeting Franklin at 4 p.m. ISD will meet Winchester in the other first-rounders sometime over the weekend. Chapin and Jacksonville drew byes.

Illinois college plays two baseball games this week. Joe Brooks takes his Blueboys to Decatur on Tuesday and Augustana is the invader in a Little Nine confab here on Friday.

Jacksonville high travels to White Hall for a dual track meet on Wednesday.

ISD and Jacksonville athletes will compete in the District track and field meet at Macomb on Friday.

GAY NINETIES' PICNIC HELD

Chino, Calif. —(P)—High button shoes, picture hats and a caravan of horseless carriages descended on the district during its recent "Gay Nineties" picnic.

Old time autos were driven by members of the Southern California Horseless Carriage Club. Picnickers rode about in old Stutz Bearcats, Maxwells and Brushes and ignored the catcalls—"Get a horse."

GOTCHA!

As what Bill Kaufmann (right), Routt third baseman, seems to be saying as he leans forward to put the horsehide on ISD's Lamont Klecot during the two local teams' wild PMBC conference combat at Illinois college Friday afternoon.

But Kaufmann missed the tag. ISD won the game 27-17. Kaufmann, a senior at Routt, sustained a broken right instep during the game.

FAN BREEZES

BY BOB MERRIS

Coach Bob Kraushaar's Jacksonville high school baseball team is assuming powerhouse proportions. The Crimson's were no less than awe inspiring as they pummeled the Carlinville Cavaliers 5-0 and 18-0 in a doubleheader at the northside Saturday afternoon.

Joe is concerned about the condition of home plate at the Hilltop diamond. "We've had 76 runs cross that platter in two days," he laughed last night. ISD whipped Routt 27-17 on Friday and yesterday's score with 17-15. It added up to 76 Saturday night.

Kraushaar's lads left absolutely nothing to be desired. The pitching was sensational, the hitting superb and the fielding adequate. Of course veteran twirlers Kenny Wright and Bill Williams only did the jobs that everyone knew they were capable of. However, the sudden-found hitting power of sophomore third sacker Bob Scott and the smooth mound work of freshman "Woody" Woodward gave this corner new hope when we look to the upcoming district, sectional and state tournaments.

Ron Campbell, expected to be the number three Jacksonville pitcher, is no longer with the squad. Therefore, it falls on Woodward to take up the slack. His work in the final two innings against Carlinville Saturday proves that he can do the job.

The Jacks will meet the ISD-Winchester winner in the sub-district semi-finals next Tuesday afternoon. That's only the first step up a long ladder that could lead to dethroning powerful Pekin as state prep diamond champion.

Kraushaar's main worry has been lack of work for pitcher Bill Williams. The Crimson coach thought Saturday that the veteran twirler looked a mite rusty. "It's lack of work and nothing else," commented Coach Bob. "I'd sure like to schedule one or two more games for this week." Any takers?

Coach Joe Brooks' young Illinois college baseball team certainly missed a good chance to knock off touted Millikin Saturday. As one spectator commented, "There's only one thing that I'd rather do than beat Millikin and that's to beat Millikin with Don Hess pitching." But we didn't get the job done. That's a tribute to Hess, the stocky Millikin football quarterback and baseball twirler. He's a wonderful athlete with too much experience and savvy for Brooks' youngsters to cope with. It hurts to admit it, but 'tis true.

Drake Thinlies Win Tri-Meet

Peoria, Ill., May 3—(P)—Drake University of Des Moines won a triangular track meet with Bradley and Loyola of Chicago today with 79 5/6 points.

The host Bradley Braves were second with 66 1/3 and Loyola trailed with 15 5/6.

Drake's Bulldogs scored eight firsts, including a double win by Dewey Johnson, who copped the half mile and mile runs. His time for the half mile was 1:55.8, for the mile 4:17.2.

Gordon Busse of Bradley won the 100-yard dash in 9.9 seconds and the broad jump with a leap of 23 feet 4 inches. His teammate, Jim Philbee, also scored a double victory, taking both hurdles races. He won the 120-yard high in 14.9 seconds and the 220-yard lows in 24.5.

Other winning performances included Bob Kelly's 9:34 effort in the two-mile, which gave Loyola its only first, and Jim Lavey's 47.9 timing in the quarter mile for Drake. Jim Ford of Drake won the 220-yard run in 21.8 seconds.

APPLES ON THE SOUTH SIDE THIS YEAR

Galesburg, Ill., May 3—(P)—Carl H. Edwards is pretty puzzled by his apple tree, which has been bearing fruit in an odd manner for about 20 years.

The tree alternately blossoms and bears fruit on one side only. This year, it is blossoming on the south side. Last year it was the north side. And so forth.

Edwards says he's glad it's the south side. When the north side produces, the falling apples litter his driveway.

Kansas Man Says He Killed Girl

Wichita, Kan., May 3—(P)—William Bircher told police today he stabbed a 34-year-old waitress, carried her around a while in a barracks bag and finally called a cab to take her to a makeshift burial place.

Last Thursday, police found the body of Mrs. Mary Brady under the porch of the home of Bircher's parents. The nude body had four stab wounds in the chest and had been under the porch about 10 days.

Detective Capt. R. B. Price said Bircher, 22, who had been treated by a psychiatrist, told him this story:

During an argument on a date he stabbed the woman and put her body in an old barracks bag. He carried the body for a block and left it on a street corner while he went into a cafe to call a taxicab. He then had the driver take him to the home of his parents where he hid the body.

30% Aviation Gas Reduction Ordered

Washington, May 3—(P)—A 30 per cent cut in use of gasoline for civil aviation purposes will be put into effect Tuesday, May 6, the petroleum administration for defense said today.

The cut will apply to both airlines and private planes. No gasoline will be allowed for sport or pleasure flights.

The airlines will be limited during the 28 days beginning May 6 to 65 per cent of the gasoline they used in March.

Because of the longer period in March, the actual cut in allowed gasoline will amount to 30 per cent, the PAD said.

The cutback in the use of aviation gasoline is due to the oil strike by CIO, AFL and independent workers.

Young Blueboy Nine Drops 17-15 Decision To Millikin In 11th

Joe Brooks' young Illinois college baseball team dropped a heartbreaking 17-15 decision to Millikin University here Saturday. The Little Nine conference game went 11 innings.

The Blueboys, fighting for their second league victory this week against the conference leaders from Decatur, stepped off to an 8-1 lead early in the ball game.

With Don Hess taking over the mound chores in the second inning, Millikin managed to hold the Blueboys and scored eight runs in the fifth inning to grab a 9-8 advantage.

Gene Callahan became the second Blueboy pitcher to try his luck against Millikin when he replaced starter Fred Lubes in the fifth.

Millikin's lead didn't last long because Brooks' youngsters fought right back and scored two runs of their own in the fifth to lead 10-9.

From then on the game, which lasted four and one-half hours, was a scoring race.

Both teams scored twice in the sixth. Then Millikin tallied three times in the eighth and the Blueboys got only two to leave the score knotted at 14-14.

Regulation play ended with the two Little Nine rivals still deadlocked at 14-14.

Joe Fitzgerald was called over from third base to pitch the last three innings for Illinois.

The youngster did a good job until two hits and a costly throwing error gave Millikin three big runs in the top half of the eleventh.

The Blueboys fought back doggedly and racked up one run in their half of the inning. The game ended with Hess whiffing his third man of the inning leaving Blueboy runners on first and second base.

Illinois college actually outthrew Millikin 19 to 13.

The Blueboys go to Millikin Tuesday afternoon for another conference diamond test.

Philadelphia, May 3.—(P)—Left hander Alex Kellner, first baseman Ferris Fain and catcher Joe Astroth combined to give the reawakening Philadelphia Athletics a 7 to 1 victory over the Chicago White Sox today at Shibe park.

It was the second straight victory and the A's who recently ended a disastrous seven-game losing streak. Kellner pitched three-hit ball to record his first win against three defeats: Fain hammered a double and single and drove home two runs, while Astroth sent three runs home with a pair of singles.

Red Sox Pound Browns 5-2, Take Good Lead In AL

Boston, May 3.—(P)—The Boston Red Sox backed veteran Elias Kinder with a 10-hit attack, including Don Lenhardt's third homer of the season, today while taking the odd game of a three-game series from the fast traveling St. Louis Browns 5-2.

The win strengthened the Sox grip on the American league's top position.

Kinder was in trouble only once in the second inning when the Browns did all of their scoring by bunching four of their eight hits to pull into a 2-1 lead.

Bob Nieman opened that frame by singling and George Schmees followed another single, Nieman moving to third base. The latter romped home on Dick Kryhoski's broken-bat single into right-center. Schmees scored on Clint Courtney's one-out single to right. Thereupon Kinder settled down. Kryhoski was nailed at the plate when pitcher Earl Harritt attempted a squeeze bunt and was forced by Bob Young.

Vern Stephens tripled in Jim Piersall with the initial Boston run in the first inning and the Soxers clinched matters against Harritt by adding two more markers in the third.

Lenhardt's four-bagger came with one out and the bases empty in the fifth.

Bruins Sock Bums Out Of NL Lead With 3-2 Setback

Chicago, May 3.—(P)—Catcher Toby Atwell, former Brooklyn farm hand, slammed a bases-loaded single in the tenth inning to give the Chicago Cubs a 3-2 victory over the Dodgers and knock them out of the National league lead today.

Atwell's blow, far over right fielder Carl Furillo's head, came on a 3-2 pitch with one out against Brooklyn reliever and loser John Rutherford, who supplanted starter Ben Wade in the seventh.

The defeat dropped the Dodgers, league leaders from opening day, behind the New York Giants, who scored a 3-2 win today over Philadelphia.

Big Bob Rush went the route for the Cubs, scattering eight hits, for his second victory against two defeats.

Cloyd Boyer Spins Redbirds To 3-0 Win Over Phils

St. Louis, May 3.—(P)—Young Cloyd Boyer, trying for a comeback at the ripe old age of 24, made a dandy season debut as a starting pitcher today by hurling and battling the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3-0 standing and a 3-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Nagged by a sore right arm last season, Boyer had pitched only seven innings, including spring training outings, since being shelved last Aug. 12. But he came back from exile today to allow the Phils just six hits, while walking one and fanning one.

Boyer also took charge of driving across a run with a fifth inning double off the left field wall that scored Del Rice with the second Cardinal tally. Rice reached base on a single that brought Harry (Peanuts) Lowrey across after Peanuts had opened the innings with the first hit off Karl Drews.

Drews had been masterful up to that point. He walked two men in the first, but retired the side without a hit or a run and then breezed along in one-two-three order before bumping into Lowrey in the fifth.

Chisox-Senators In Player Swap

Philadelphia, May 3.—(P)—The Chicago White Sox traded infielder Mel Hoderlein and outfielder Jim Busby to the Washington Senators for veteran outfielder Sam Mele.

Hoderlein hit .313 in 111 games for Louisville in the American association last year, hitting five homers and driving in 40 runs. A native of Newton, O., Hoderlein also played nine games in the American league for the Boston Red Sox in 1951, hitting .357. He is 28 and resides in Trenton, N. J.

Busby was one of the speed boys who helped make the White Sox the sensation of the American league through the first part of last season. A native of Kennedy, Tex., the 25-year-old Busby hit .283 and drove home 68 runs for the Sox.

Mele, a 29-year-old veteran from Astoria, N. Y., hit .275 for the Senators in 1951, batting in 94 runs. He has seen previous service with the Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Browns.

BOWLERS SLUMP

Milwaukee, May 3.—(P)—Scoring slumped in early shift rolling today at the American Bowling Congress tournament.

The best singles effort was a 219-223-233-675 by Clifford Turner of Anderson, Ind., with second high for the day a 656 by Roy Neundorff of Decatur, Ill.

Production was even lower in the doubles, with an 1197 by Arnold Johnson and John Ross of Minneapolis the top figure.

EDDIE ARCARO STILL GETS KICK OUT OF WINNING

By Kyle Vance

Louisville, Ky., May 3.—(P)—Eddie Arcaro got his biggest Kentucky derby thrill winning Saturday's 78th running with Hill Gail.

"There's no thrill like winning your first derby unless it's winning your fifth," he said happily in the jockey room after the near-record finish.

He said he felt his record of five derby winners, two more than any other rider has booted home, is safe now.

As if to spike a report that he was planning to retire, he added quickly: "But I'm going to keep on coming to the derby as long as they give me the best horses like Hill Gail."

The smiling Newport, Ky., Italian-American, said Hill Gail "ran the best race he had in him."

"He wanted to run, so I let him," he added. "He got especially eager at the half-mile pole (one half mile from the finish) and I let him ease by Hannibal before I wanted to. I was afraid to hold him, although I would have preferred to follow some horses a little longer."

Mrs. Josephine Arcaro, Eddie's mother from Ft. Thomas, Ky., saw her first derby.

"I wouldn't change a minute of it," she said jubilantly.

Also in the stands were two of the jockey's sisters, Mrs. Helen McBee and Mrs. Evelyn Maggio, of Ft. Thomas, Ky.

Mrs. Arcaro made her way to the winner's circle and planted a kiss on her son's cheek.

Sal Maglie Cops Fourth, Giants Edge Pirates 3-2

Pittsburgh, May 3.—(P)—Veteran Sal Maglie of the New York Giants copped his fourth win of the season and his 12th in a row over the Pittsburgh Pirates today, edging the Bucs 3-2 on seven hits.

The cellar-dwelling Pirates gave the ace right-hander some trouble but the New Yorkers were helped along by seven walks and an error by Ralph Kiner.

Ronnie Kline, 19-year-old Pittsburgh rookie, gave up but four hits before Bob Friend relieved him in the eighth. Kline was charged with his second loss of the year against no wins.

Pirate Johnny Merson belted a home run in the sixth to knot the score at 2-2.

Local Twirlers Allow Just Two Hits, Win By 5-0, 18-0 Scores

The Carlinville Cavaliers were allowed just two hits all afternoon as Coach Bob Kraushaar's Jacksonville Crimsons clinched the Central conference baseball title by trimming the visitors 5-0 and 18-0 in a double header at the northside stadium Saturday.

Both hits were garnered by Carlinville center fielder Wynn during the first game. But Crimson Kenny Wright was still unbeatable as he pitched the entire 7-inning route and claimed the 5-0 shutout.

Two Jacksonville pitchers, Bill Williams and freshman southpaw "Woody" Woodward, collaborated to set the invading Cavaliers down without a hit in the second game as the Crimsons powered to the top-sided victory in a short five innings.

Williams pitched three and two thirds innings of the ball game and Woodward finished up.

The Crimsons had a little trouble with Carlinville pitcher Davenport in the initial game. But the home town lads pecked away for single runs in the first three innings, then added a pair of insurance tallies in the fifth.

Wright was never in trouble. He struck out the side in both the third and fifth innings.

Extra base blows featured the second game as Coach Bob Kraushaar's lads greeted Carlinville with four run outbursts in the second and third innings then pounded across the plate with seven more in the third.

Bob Scott, Kenny Wright and Johnny Walker blasted home runs for the Crimsons. Starting pitcher Bill Williams' pounded out a pair of triples.

The victories were Jacksonville's 7th and 8th for the season. The Jacks wound up with a 4-1 record in the Central loop.

Carlinville will play a week from Tuesday in the local district baseball tournament. The Crimson opponent will be decided in one of the preliminary games on Thursday, Saturday and Monday.

Carbondale Musicians Win Meet; Beardstown Captures Six Firsts

Carbondale Community high school, amassing a total of 89 points, won the grand sweepstakes prize of the 1952 state Class B high school music contest, which ended Saturday at MacMurray College. In second place was Rochelle with 86 points, just ahead of Dundee, which scored 85. Harvard Community high school was fourth with 72.

Beardstown high school achieved the highest score of the Central Illinois high schools, ending the two-day contest with 55 points. However, Beardstown musicians won six firsts and placed second or third in 11 other divisional contests.

Ninety-nine high schools from all parts of Illinois sent 735 entries to the tournament here. A total of 1,500 voice and instrument musicians took part in the two-day festival of song. There were 38 divisions in which voice and instrument musicians competed.

The final events on the program, which began Friday morning, were the band competition and the girls' boys' and mixed choruses, which were completed late Saturday afternoon.

From the standpoint of public attraction, the band contest at the Jacksonville high school auditorium held top place during the two-day meet. Many townspeople gathered to hear 23 bands play three numbers each during half-hour sessions Friday night and Saturday. Afterwards, each band retired to a J.H.S. classroom to be tested on several numbers which were unrehearsed and played at sight.

Beardstown Band

The only band from this section of Illinois to take part in the band competition was a Beardstown, which is a familiar organization to citizens of Jacksonville. The Beardstown band frequently accompanies the school's athletic teams to Jacksonville and has performed many times on the J.H.S. football field. The band scored a number one rating from a panel of three judges Friday night.

In a spectacular display of baton twirling, Miss Emily Dawson, Beardstown, won a second place for her solo performance, as did Miss Rita Bradbury of Brown county high school. The band scored a number one rating from a panel of three judges Friday night.

Because it is a Class A high school in terms of size, Jacksonville high school was not entered in the state meet here. The 99 schools entered here in the Class B competition have from 250 to 550 students. The Class A contest for high schools with more than 550 students was held in Champaign-Urbana a week ago.

Classes C and D are holding meets at Peoria and Macomb simultaneously with the Class B meet here. Following are the ratings won by contestants from Central Illinois high schools in the Class B meet: Individual Ratings

Beardstown: baton twirling, solo, Emily Dawson, second; bassoon, solo, John Anderson, first; French horn ensemble, Beardstown quartet, first; girls' high voice, solo, Kay Struck, first; clarinet ensemble, mixed quartet, Beardstown, first; tuba solo, James Blair, first; baritone saxophone, solo, Mary Smith, third; saxophone sextet, Beardstown, first; alto saxophone, solo, Dale McHenry, second; snare drum, solo, John Anderson, second; French horn, solo, Robert McCullough, second; cornet and trumpet, solo, Gordon Sansom, second; flute, solo, Kay Lou Rodgers, second; piccolo, solo, Kay Lou Rodgers, second; piano, solo, Nancy Jo Brown, second; Patsy Baer, second; marimba, solo, Nancy Dawson, second; band, Beardstown, first.

Brown county high school: Mr. Sterling: baton twirling, solo, Rita Bradbury, second; twirling ensembles, quartette, Brown county high, second; girls' low voice, solo, Dorothy Sailer second; flute, solo, Mary Lewis, second; boys' medium voice, David Mobley, third.

Havana: Community high school: boys' low voice, solo, Charles Pittman, second; girls' high voice, solo, Clara Long, second; trumpet trio, Havana, third; flute ensemble, Havana, second; girls chorus, Havana, second.

Pittsfield high school: girls' low voice, solo, Earline Thurman, first; flute solo, Catherine Cunningham, first; piano solo, Frank Worthington, second.

Rounds Out 37 Years As Court House Janitor

Jerseyville—John Richey of Jerseyville began his thirty-seventh year of continuous service as custodian of the Jersey County Court House on May 1st. This establishes a record for public service of this nature in this area if not in the entire State of Illinois. Richey's absences from duty during this long period have been very few.

He recalls that he began his work at the court house on a Monday. He knows practically every one in Jersey County and has been re-appointed to his post each year under both Democratic and Republican Boards of Supervisors.

Richey's long tenure in office has brought him in contact with lawyers, courts, county officials, and many other people so that he has acquired a wide knowledge on many events. He was 78 years of age Jan. 4, 1951.

A native of Jersey County, Richey was born on a farm east of Fieldon, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Richey. Before taking his position at the court house he was employed for many years at the Nitschke Meat Market, owned by Paul Nitschke of Jerseyville. He has reared a large family and following the death of Mrs. Richey, carried on alone in caring for and educating their children.

Alias Basil Willing

By Helen McCloy

THE STORY: An unobtrusive little man had been using Dr. Basil Willing's name at a party at the home of another psychiatrist, Dr. Zimmer. Basil, without revealing his own identity, threatened to expose the impostor, but offers the man a chance to explain. They go to a small cafe where the impostor dies, apparently from poison. Now Basil and his helper, Foyle, are questioning Dr. Zimmer about the other guests at the party.

"WHAT about Miss Shaw's nephew, Brinsley?" demanded inspector Foyle. "Or the companion, Miss Dean? The little guy may have been blackmailing Miss Shaw because of something they did and one of them killed him. Perhaps he just picked the name of a well-known psychiatrist, Basil Willing, at random."

Basil quoted softly. "I hear someone coming. They're always watching." That's what Miss Shaw said to me when she thought I was the false Willing. It sounds as if she and he were in alliance against them. Were any of the others the sort who might get mixed up in blackmail?

This amused Zimmer. "Judge for yourself. Besides the Shaws and Miss Dean, there was Stephen Lawrence, the poet, and his daughter, Perdita, Theron Yorke and..."

"The man who runs the Stardust Club?" interrupted Foyle. "Twenty-five years ago he was dealing with bootleggers."

"Is there anyone who didn't deal with bootleggers in those days?" returned Zimmer. "The rest were his wife, Rosamund, my own sister, Greta Mann, and the Cannings, Hubert and Isolda."

Foyle seemed to lose a little of his zest for this interview. Canning, the contractor, was active in city politics. "I'll see Mrs. Mann tomorrow," Foyle was on his feet. "There's not much we can do until we talk to Miss Shaw. And identify the little guy."

"Were there no identifying marks on his clothing?" Zimmer asked Foyle.

"No. The evening dress was rented in Basil Willing's name. The other clothes were the sort of thing you can pick up at a bargain counter in any department store. No personal papers. Maybe he was afraid he would be searched while he called himself Willing. So he wasn't carrying anything that would give away his real identity."

Zimmer turned back to Basil. "And I gather you were not an old friend of his as he claimed when he left the house with you this evening?"

"That was a stratagem to get us out of here together," confessed Basil. "When I challenged his identity he insisted that he could explain things to my satisfaction, but he died before he was able to tell me anything."

"Anything that made sense. He said he was frightened because of some place where no birds sang, but he didn't name the place. Actually his last words were: 'And no bird sang.' Does that convey anything to you?"

Zimmer looked blank. "As I said, one symptom of acute alkaloid poisoning is delirium toward the end."

"But even delirium can suggest the truth," mused Basil. "I'd like to argue the point with you some day." Zimmer's smile was friendly. "We have met under rather strange circumstances, Dr. Willing. I don't know yet how you happened to come here this evening."

Basil told him. "In that case I'm grateful to the truth," mused Basil. "I'd like to argue the point with you some day." Zimmer's smile was friendly. "We have met under rather strange circumstances, Dr. Willing. I don't know yet how you happened to come here this evening."

"No. The evening dress was rented in Basil Willing's name. The other clothes were the sort of thing you can pick up at a bargain counter in any department store. No personal papers. Maybe he was afraid he would be searched while he called himself Willing. So he wasn't carrying anything that would give away his real identity."

OTTO glanced at Zimmer before he answered.

"Yes, sir. I told him Dr. Willing had gone. But he wouldn't leave until I threatened to call the precinct police."

"Do you recall anything odd about the man you announced as Dr. Basil Willing earlier this evening?"

"Well—thirteen is a number the doctor always avoids at dinner and the man was the thirteenth guest. But he gave the name of a guest who had been invited."

Otto glanced at Basil. "... So I began to wonder about this gentleman."

Zimmer intervened. "For your future information, Otto, this is Dr. Basil Willing."

"Indeed, sir?" Otto's eyes opened as if he could hardly believe anyone would abuse Dr. Zimmer's hospitality.

Zimmer started as if a thought had struck him abruptly. "Now I wonder..." He went to the hall table and pulled out a drawer.

"Could his name have been Duggan?"

"Why Duggan?" demanded Foyle.

"After all the guests had gone my sister and I spent a few moments in the drawing room talking over the party and I found this between the seat and cushion of my chair."

Zimmer took something out of the drawer. "It was a leather envelope with a cellophane window on one side. There was a printed form under the cellophane. Foyle moved nearer the lamp to read it."

"This is made out in the name of Jack Duggan," he said. "It's a license for a private detective."
